

NOTICE OF INTEREST RATE

As required by the Ohio Revised code effective January 1, 2016 for tax years 2016 and beyond, the City of New Carlisle is announcing the interest rate for tax obligations for tax year 2018.

Per the Ohio Revised Code, 718.27 operative January 1, 2016:

(4) "Federal short-term rate" means the rate of the average market yield on outstanding marketable obligations of the United States with remaining periods to maturity of three years or less, as determined under section 1274 of the Internal Revenue Code, for July of the current year.

(5) "Interest rate as described in division (A) of this section" means the federal short-term rate, rounded to the nearest whole number per cent, plus five percent. The rate shall apply for the calendar year next following the July of the year in which the federal short-term rate is determined in accordance with division (A)(4) of this section.

The Federal Short-Term Rate is available on the following webpage:

In July 2017, the Federal Short-Term AFR was 1.22% so the annual interest rate for tax year 2018 tax obligations will be 6% annually or 0.5% per month (or part thereof) of the tax not paid by the due date.

The interest rate of 0.5% per month (or part thereof) will be in effect for income taxes due for tax year 2018 not paid by the due date.

Note: For income tax balances for tax year 2017 not paid by the due date, the interest rate remains at 0.5% per month (or part thereof).

Note: For income tax balances for tax year 2016 not paid by the due date, the interest rate remains at 0.417% per month (or part thereof).

Note: For income tax balances for tax years 2015 and prior not paid by the due date, the interest remains 0.5% of the unpaid balance per month (or part thereof) compounded.
